GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Severe Weather on the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Steamships arriving from Europe report severe weather on the banks of Newfoundland, which detained them from 24 to 48 hours beyond schedule time. The steamship Athenia from Cardiff, Oct. 20th, was thrown so far over on her side that it was difficult to keep her headed up to the gale and the seas swept over her decks fore and aft, carrying overboard everything movable and doing slight damage to upper works.

The Late Storm the Severest Ever Known.

Sailing vessels which arrived this morning looked as though they had received a severe handling by the recent cyclone which swept the coast. Their sails were in rags, and the vessels had generally a battered appearance. The oldest captains state that they never experienced a fiercer gale.

Fever Relief Measures Stopped.

Boxes which Postmaster James placed in the postoffice for Memphis sufferers by yellow fever have been removed. Total amount received, $1031 during October.

Arrival of Lieut. Weir's Body at New York.

The body of Lieut. Wm. B. Weir, killed by Utes at Milk creek, arrived to-day and was received by Capt. Geo. Weir with the 5th artillery. The remains will be interred at West Point.

Mutiny at Sea.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 4.—The British brig G. S. Berry, Capt. Haward, with lumber, from Pensacola for Montevideo, arrived with crew in mutiny. The captain was very badly cut. His life was saved and the mutiny quelled by his daughter.

GRANT BOUND EASTWARD.

Enthusiastic Receptions in Iowa.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Nov. 3.—A special train carrying Gen. Grant and party left for Burlington, Iowa, at 9½ o'clock this morning via the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad.

RED OAK, Nov. 4.—The special train which had backed into Omaha was received by a large crowd at Council Bluffs. Thirty-nine members of the Grand Army of the Republic received Gen. Grant, and Gov. Gear made a speech of welcome and offered an escort of the Grand Army across Iowa, which Gen. Grant accepted with the remark that "there was a time when their protection was more necessary than now. I hope this occasion may prove a more pleasant one than when I needed your escort before. I thank you, governor, and the state of Iowa, heartily, for your good will and your escort." Three cheers were given for the general, and an enthusiastic German proposed three cheers for the "American King." Soon after the train started a man in attempting to climb to the platform, was fatally injured by falling under the wheels. The train stopped a few minutes at Glenwood, where a large crowd cheered lustily, and arrived here about noon. Senator Hibbard stopped on the platform and introduced Gen. Grant, who spoke briefly, assuring the people of Iowa that he was always glad to take them by the hand, both at their homes and in the field. Mrs. Grant being called for appeared and bowed as the train moved off.

CRESTON, Iowa, Nov. 4.—At Villisca Gen. Grant went through rather a severe handshaking in a good-natured way. The run from Villisca to Creston, 45 miles, was made in 48 minutes. A large arch was erected over the main track here, and a large crowd was in waiting.

Imprisoned for Life.

ALBANY, Nov. 3.—James Larch, who recently murdered his wife and four-year old child at Hadley, near Lapier, has been arrested and sentenced to solitary confinement and hard labor for life.

AT BURLINGTON.

Enthusiastically Received by the Citizens—Parade and Receptions.

BURLINGTON, Nov. 4.—An immense crowd thronged the streets to-day, and the city presented a gay holiday appearance, nearly every building being profusely decorated with national emblems and with flowers. The principal streets are liberally arched, the arches bearing appropriate pictures and mottoes. The fire department has been parading the streets all the morning, while a carriage drawn by four white horses, containing Gen. Grant, Gov. Gear and Mayor Adams has driven about the city escorted by a grand military and followed by other carriages. Enthusiasm was general. At noon a reception to members of the press was held at the Hawk-eye office, and a copy of this morning's Hawk-eye printed on white silk was presented to the general. Lunch was served at the mayor's house, and at 1:30 there was a general reception at the hotel, where there was a tremendous crowd eager to shake hands with the general. Mrs. Grant also had a reception at the mayor's house.

THE DEAD HERO.

Gen. Hooker's Body at New York—Preparations for the Funeral.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Preliminary services prior to the removal of the remains of Maj. Gen. Hooker from Garden City this morning were very solemn, although unattended with the military parade which will characterize the funeral to-morrow. It attracted a large number of persons not only from the immediate vicinity but also from Hempstead and other outlying villages. After the services the coffin was borne from the room and out of the hotel on the shoulders of eight soldiers. The remainder of the command acted as an escort and marched with guns reversed. The procession moved slowly down the road leading to the depot, followed by a long line of friends, where a special train was in waiting. The remains arrived in this city at 2 o'clock and were taken to the City Hall and placed in state in the governor's room. Weather permitting, the parade of military to-morrow at the funeral will be imposing and impressive.

Official Announcement to the Army of Gen. Hooker's Death.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The following general order has been issued by Gen. Sherman: The death of Major General Joseph Hooker, U. S. A., retired, which took place at Garden City, L. I., on the 31st ult., is announced to the army. In announcing the decease of this gallant veteran, honored with the thanks of congress for "skill, energy and endurance," the general takes occasion to recall to the memory of the army the distinguished services rendered by Gen. Hooker throughout the war with Mexico as well as the late war. His gallantry in the former gave promise of the superior courage, vigor and skill in action which has since characterized him. It is not necessary here to narrate his achievements. They are matters of familiar history, and his soldierly deeds may well excite admiration and emulation. His surviving comrades of the military division of the Atlantic will fire minute guns to be fired at Fort Columbus and the flag to be displayed at half-staff during the funeral ceremonies in New York city. Like honors will be paid at Newport barracks, Kentucky, on the day of interment in Cincinnati. Officers are requested to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

RAILROAD DISASTER.

A Passenger Train on the N. Y. & G. L. R. R. Plunges Into the Hackensack River—One Person Killed and Seven Wounded.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

HACKENSACK, Nov. 4.—A passenger train this morning on the New York and Greenwood Lake railroad, composed of one engine and one coach, ran into the Hackensack river, owing to the draw bridge being open. Engineer Dexter was wounded by jumping before the locomotive reached the edge of the stream. There were about twenty persons in the coach, mostly business men living at Arlington, Montclair, and Greenwood Lake, on their way to New York. B. D. Wood, baggagemaster, was sitting on the front seat of the passenger coach. He saw the fireman jump on the front platform of the coach, and running to the edge jump into the river. He then rushed out through the doorway, and seeing the forward part of the engine just going over the draw, himself jumped into the river. The particulars have not yet been received. Only one person is thus far reported killed—Dexter, engineer, aged 40, and residing in Jersey City with his wife and family. His neck was broken and head crushed. The wounded known are B. D. Wood, baggagemaster, back injured and hurt internally; P. S. Tuttle, of Montclair, assistant to New York City, badly cut and bruised, taken back to Newark; Harrison, of Woodside, head cut, suffered internally, swallowed a quantity of salt water, which he vomited with blood, also taken to Newark. John Masker, fireman, seriously strained by striking the bridge. W. Stark, conductor, badly bruised, but not seriously hurt. Jesse Williams, brakeman, bruised about the head, side and arms. Others suffered from drenching and exposure of fifteen to twenty minutes in cold water.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Withdrawal of Bullion from the Bank of England.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day, £30,000.

Attempted Assassination.

VIENNA, Nov. 4.—A telegram from Riva in Tyrol, states that some men concealed behind a bush attempted to shoot a major of the 5th Austrian guards.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Sprague the Murderer.

SAN BUENA VENTURA, Nov. 4.—In the district court this morning Judge Fawcett, after reading the order of the supreme court, fixed Friday, Dec. 5th, as the day for the execution of F. A. Sprague, convicted of the murder of T. W. Moore in April, 1878. It is said that a petition will be at once circulated asking the governor to commute the sentence on the ground that the witnesses on whose testimony he was convicted broke down on subsequent trials of other prisoners; and that Austin Brown, the principal witness, has been decided by the supreme court to have been accessory.

Assessments.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Chollar and Potosi levy assessments of 50 cents each.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Telegraph Tariff Reduced.

PORT TOWNSEND, Nov. 4.—President Minor has reduced the tariff on night messages over the Puget Sound telegraph line to co operate with the Western Union night rate system, to take effect on the 15th inst.

The City of Chester left for Nanaimo at 11 A. M. Heavy southeaster blowing.

MARK LANE REPORT.

Threshing in England—A Fluctuating but Healthy Market.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Mark Lane Express, in a review of the British grain trade for the past week, says that the wet and foul condition of land in England delays ploughing. Comparatively little wheat is yet sown. Despite damp weather a good deal of English wheat has been threshed lately with results fully confirming the shortness of the crop.

The bulk of the wheat offered for sale during the past week, owing to pressing pecuniary needs of farmers, has been anything but good. Really sound grain, fit for milling or sowing, has been comparatively rare and was unaffected by a decline of 1s@2s per quarter which has been generally quoted.

Trade has been very dull. If no further decline occurs in foreign wheat before the approaching closing of Baltic ports by ice, there appears sufficient strength in the trade to withstand the action of American without the present range of values undergoing much alteration during the winter, even if a slight further fall occurs. It is more than likely that it will be speedily recovered under the influence of increased demand from France. Local trade has been very quiet throughout the week with only a moderate consumptive demand. Speculators are anxious to realize, and prices receded about 1s per quarter for all descriptions of foreign wheat. Indian wheat has been arriving more freely, and has attracted a fair share of attention, though activity therein will probably be less marked than in 1878 when large arrivals very sensibly interfered with the sale of Russian and American descriptions.

Arrivals of maize have been very light, but at the beginning of the week it was unsalable except at a reduction of 6d per quarter. Prices have tended downward ever since.

Arrivals at ports of call have been limited. Depression in wheat continued until Thursday when the decline since Monday amounted to 2s per quarter. Sales, however, were few. A reaction has since occurred, and 1s@1s 6d of the decline has been recovered. The demand for maize has been small, and it has receded 6d per quarter.

Business in wheat to arrive has been very restricted, and red winter declined 2s@2s 6d per quarter during the week, both on passage and for shipment; but 1s@1s 6d has since been recovered.

Barley is quiet and steady. Maize has fallen fully 6d per quarter.

Sales of English wheat last week were 39,966 quarters at 50s 4d, against 59,030 quarters at 39s during the corresponding week of last year.

Imports into the United Kingdom during the week ending October 25, were 187,738 cwts of wheat and 207,175 cwts of flour.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

Hank Lewis, employed in a livery stable at Independence, was kicked in the abdomen a few days ago by a horse, and will probably die from the effects of the hurt.

The fishing schooner Emily Stephens which arrived at Astoria on the 30th ult., from the Cape Flattery fishing grounds, has done a pretty fair business. She will go into winter quarters.

Col. Cook Talcott, chief engineer of the Astoria and Winnemucca railroad, started on Monday into the field again on the preliminary survey, and will go through to Forest Grove.

There was a grand fox hunt at Salem last week. A Piety hill man had three of these somewhat singular pets which, escaping from his grounds, raided for a day or two on the chicken roosts of the neighborhood. A hunt was finally inaugurated by the women and children whose fowls had been killed, which ended in a bloody and complete triumph for the assailants.

The authorities of Polk county have succeeded in capturing one of the men who attempted the robbery at Independence last Friday. His name is John Matnie; he has lived in that place for a number of years with his parents, and has heretofore always borne a good reputation, but having fallen into bad company, he has sinned and consequently will have to suffer the penalty of the law. He has given the "whole business away," and as the other parties are well known, having lived in Independence for over a year, they will probably soon be captured, as men are close on their track. Young Matnie is now in jail.

Southern Oregon.

In his visit to Fossil lake, says the Ashland Tidings, Prof. E. D. Cope found fossil remains of the following description: Mammals—One species of elephant, three of the horse, two of the llama and one each of the sloth, otter, wolf, rabbit, ox and gopher. Birds—One species of swan, three of the goose, four of the duck, two of the grebe, one of the mud-hen. Fishes—Two species of chub and three of the sucker. Of the reptile order nothing but a toad was found. Besides these there were a lot of bones which the professor was not prepared to classify in the field, and which may add other varieties of animals to the list. The wolf mentioned is identical with the coyote of to-day.

Eastern Washington.

"Wheat haulers wanted" is placarded all over the Walla Walla country.

The Walla Walla foundry caught fire last week but was saved by the department. Damage $200.

Prices at Walla Walla: Wheat, per bushel, [illegible]; barley, per cental, new 60c, old 65c; oats, per cental, $1; corn, per cental, $1; flour, per barrel, $4 50; middlings, per ton, $20; bran, per ton, $10.

Thursday a convention of the Episcopal church met for the first time east of the mountains, at Walla Walla. Bishop Morris and [illegible] were in attendance. The session was interesting but brief.

The following is the report of the stationing committee of the Walla Walla conference, United Brethren [illegible] district, J. H. [illegible]; Walla Walla, A. W. One of the most effective [illegible] at the Bohemian ball was an allegory representing Grant receiving the sword of Fame and Victory at the door of the Temple of Liberty. And yet a San Jose editor went home full of Roederer, soft shell crabs, mashed ice and things, and referred to it as "a humorous composition depicting a ticket seller keeping deadheads out of a circus with a ten-pin."

A man by the name of Richardson had a leg broken last week near Weston.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

A GENERAL REPUBLICAN BOOM.

Cornell Elected in New York—Probable Democratic Majority on Balance of Ticket—All Other States Overwhelmingly Republican.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK.

Scattering Reports—Much Scratching at Albany—Quiet Hard Work at New York City.

ALBANY, Nov. 4—Noon.—Weather cold and lowering. There has been great activity at the polls, indicating a heavy vote, but it is impossible to discover which ticket is receiving the most votes, scratching has been so general. Each party is divided on local issues and all sections are earnestly at work. Never were there so many pasters used at an election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The day is fine and the election proceeds quietly. Workers are too busy pushing the claims of their candidates to give any time for brawls or fights. No trouble is expected by the authorities, notwithstanding the intensity of the feeling existing. Robinson's men say that the election will be settled in this city and Brooklyn. Kelly claims that they will poll enough votes to retire Robinson forever. Friends of Cornell are confident of his election, yet many republicans scratch his name from the ballot and many more vote for Robinson.

The First Returns—Cornell's Election Claimed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Indications are that Kelly will poll about 28,000 votes in this city and that Cornell is elected governor.

Fifty election districts in the city give Cornell 3405, Robinson 3097, Kelly 2846, Hoskins 3402, Potter 6557.

One hundred and twenty election districts give Cornell 8134, Robinson 10,003, Kelly 7280, Hoskins 8534, Potter 16,311.

State Senators in New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Returns from the various senatorial districts indicate the election of Hogan, Tammany democrat, in the fifth senatorial district, Zebacker in the sixth, Erdman, republican, in the seventh, Strahn, republican, in the eighth, Bixby, Tammany democrat, in the ninth, Astor, republican, in the tenth, and Foster, republican, in the eleventh. New York City will give John Kelly 40,000 votes.

Republicans Carry Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Nov. 4.—A republican victory is generally conceded here. The republican nominees for principal city offices are about all elected by majorities ranging from 1000 to 1500.

The Vote in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 4.—Returns from a little over half the city give Robinson 21,783, Cornell 17,171, and Kelly 2671.

The Vote of Monroe County.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 4.—Monroe county gives Cornell 9868, Robinson 6829, Kelly 1548. Only three districts to hear from.

Cornell Elected by 20,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—10 P. M.—Three hundred election districts out of 678 give Cornell 20,472, Robinson 26,299, Kelly 18,687, Hoskins 21,724, Potter 45,003. Republicans claim 20,000 plurality for Cornell, but are yet in doubt concerning the remainder of the state ticket.

In the city 190 election districts give Cornell 12,984, Robinson 15,787, Kelly 11,568, Hoskins 13,675, Potter 25,954.

How It Looked at Midnight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (midnight).—The figures now at from outside the cities of New York and Brooklyn indicate that Cornell is elected. He will come to Harlem River with a plurality of at least 35,000, against which Robinson has about 12,000 in New York city and about 10,000 in Brooklyn. This calculation elects Cornell by a plurality of 13,000, which may be increased to 15,000 or reduced to 10,000. The democratic state ticket, other than Governor Robinson, is thought to be elected. Both branches of the legislature are republican.

The Latest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—1:30 A. M.—Five hundred election districts in the city, out of 6730, give Cornell 33,522, Robinson 43,561, Kelly 31,240, Hoskins 25,728, Potter 73,431.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Butler Carries Boston by a Heavy Majority.

BOSTON, Nov. 4—Full vote of this city: Long, 18,238; Butler, 23,445; Adams, 1320; Eddy, 99. Butler's majority over all, 3878; majority over Long, 5207, an increase of 710 votes for Butler over last year.

The Vote of Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 4—Long, 2833 Butler, 2204; Adams, 1821; Eddy, 25. Republican loss, 192.

A Butler Majority at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Nov. 4—8 P. M.—Returns from four wards, including two republican strongholds, give Butler a plurality over Long of 416. Two wards not yet reported last year gave Butler 708 majority. Butler's vote surprises everybody and his majority will probably be 1200. Four wards give Long 1291, Butler 1707; Adams and Eddy very few.

Reports from Other Towns.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Nineteen towns, including New Bedford and Taunton, give Long a majority of 2738 over Butler. Taunton gives Long 1642 and Butler 1365. Last year Talbot received 1934 and Butler 1427. Returns from Lowell, not yet complete, show a heavy gain for Butler. In ward six Butler's son is beaten 23 votes for representative by Pinckman (Rep.) although the general carries the ward for governor. Holyoke gives Long 661, Butler 1043 and Adams 31—an increased majority for Butler over last year. One hundred and thirty-seven towns and 16 cities give Long 6504 majority over Butler.

Butler Beaten by Perhaps 15,000.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Returns as far as received indicate that Long, republican candidate for governor, is elected by from 10,000 to 13,000 plurality, and this may be increased to 15,000 by further returns. Republican candidates for state offices are probably all elected, and the legislature will be largely republican.

Butler's Friends Concede his Defeat.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The defeat of Butler is conceded by Butler's friends, who allow that Long's plurality will be 8000; but there is every indication that it will reach 15,000 and may touch 17,000. Republican councillors are elected and the legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

Two hundred and ten towns give Long 95,087; Butler, 81,583; Adams, 7719. Last year, Butler, 80,475; Talbot, 101,428; Abbot, 7094.

Complete returns from Hull, Cohasset, Braintree, Dennis, Harwich and Chatham give Long 501 majority.

Nearly a Level Vote.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—[illegible] towns and cities in this state give Long 113,515; Butler, 99,930; Adams 9915. The same towns last year gave Talbot 124,317; Butler 98,317; Abbott 8050.

CONNECTICUT.

From Sixty to Seventy Republican Majority in the Legislature—The Political Situation in the State.

HARTFORD, Nov. 4.—The election in Connecticut to-day was for the legislature only and for the senate. Elections were held in only eleven of 21 districts. Of these the republicans elected ten and the democrats one. Of the senators elected last year who hold over this year seven are republicans and three democrats, so that the senate will stand seventeen republicans and four democrats. The house will probably stand about 150 to 80, or a majority of between 60 to 70 on a joint ballot. The legislature now elected does not choose a United States senator, but the senators now elected hold over till next year, and will vote for a senator to succeed Eaton.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Tremendous Republican Majority in the State.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Partial returns from [illegible] of 67 counties in this state, exclusive of Philadelphia county, show republican gains of [illegible]. Twenty-seven wards in Philadelphia out of 31 give Butler, republican, for state treasurer, 25,214 majority over Barr, democrat, a republican gain of 971.

Gains in the Eastern Counties.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Returns from eastern counties are meager, but all show republican gains.

The city of Philadelphia has gone republican by a larger majority than ever known on a state ticket. Returns from the state continue to show republican gains.

The "Boom" in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 4.—Returns from forty districts in Allegheny county give Butler, Rep., for state treasurer, 3118, Barr, (Dem.) 2015; republican majority 1103. This will give a republican majority of from 7000 to 8000. The entire county republican ticket will be elected by majorities ranging from 2000 to 5000.

Republicans Gain 20,000 in Fifteen Counties.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Returns from 15 counties, including Philadelphia, show a republican gain on the state ticket of about 20,000.

NEW JERSEY.

Legislature Republican in Both Branches.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—Returns thus far received indicate that the republicans of New Jersey have gained one state senator and two or three members of the assembly. They will probably retain control of both branches of the legislature.

ILLINOIS.

Republican Gains in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The republicans have made steady gains in nearly every precinct, and in some cases have made a very significant increase in their vote over the mayoralty election last spring. The county is certainly republican, which is considered a great triumph.

Chicago Goes Republican by Five Thousand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4, 11:20 P. M.—Republicans are now firing guns in honor of their victory in the city and in Cook county. Indications are that the city is republican by 5000.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee Goes Republican by 2000—An Extraordinary Republican Gain.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4.—The city of Milwaukee gives Smith, republican, for governor, 2000 majority, with three precincts to hear from—a republican gain of about 3000 over the vote of two years ago.

The Republican Majority 20,000.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4, 8:50 P M.—The city of Milwaukee complete gives Smith, republican for governor, 2132 majority. The city of Madison, usually democratic, gives Smith 30 majority. Net republican gain in the state, including Milwaukee so far, 6015. There is little doubt of Smith's carrying the state by 20,000. This was Zach Chandler's prediction when he left the field.

Wisconsin Sure for 20,000 Republican Majority.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4.—132 towns and precincts outside of the city of Milwaukee give a net republican gain of 5140; the county and city of Milwaukee give 3006 republican gain. The state is sure for 20,000 republican majority with a fair prospect of swelling it to 28,000.

The Majority Growing—Enormous Gains.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4—Midnight.—One hundred and forty-nine towns and cities, including Milwaukee, show a republican gain of 8,077 over the vote of two years ago. Smith (Rep.), for governor, has a majority of 1,700 so far, with half the state to hear from. His majority is estimated at 22,000, and with strong probability of 24,000. The assembly and senate are largely republican. Ex-State Treasurer Kuhn, chairman of the democratic central committee, was defeated for the assembly by more than 200 majority, the district giving him four years ago 6800 majority. No more returns expected from the state to-night.

MINNESOTA.

The Minneapolis Vote—An Unanimous Vote for Pillsbury—Republican Vote for Governor.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—A great amount of scratching makes the count slow in Minneapolis, Pillsbury's home. The full vote stands: Pillsbury (Rep.), 2816; Rice (Dem.), 555.

NEBRASKA.

The Republican Candidate for Supreme Judge and Republican County Tickets Generally Elected—Greenbackers make Small Showing.

LINCOLN, Nov. 4.—Election returns come in slowly. Indications are that Cobb, republican candidate for supreme judge, is elected over Wakely, (Dem.), by 12,000 majority. Gannett and Carson, republican regents of the university, are elected. The total vote of the state will reach 60,000. Republican county tickets are generally successful. Greenbackers make very small showing.

MISSISSIPPI.

Light Returns—The Democrats Probably Carry the State—Yazoo Heard from.

JACKSON, Nov. 4.—The election was very quiet and only a small vote was polled. Returns are light, and the result cannot be judged, though it is expected that the democrats will carry the state with the exception of a few counties. Hinds county probably elects the greater part of the greenback ticket. Yazoo goes democratic.

VICKSBURG, Nov. 4.—Election quiet; but little will be known of the result before to-morrow.

JACKSON, Nov. 4.—The election passed very quietly, but little interest manifested; small vote polled throughout the state. Indications are that the democrats carry all but a few counties. The complexion of the legislature will be unchanged. The greenbackers probably elect a part of the ticket.

VIRGINIA.

Alexandria Carried by the Debt Payers.

ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 4.—This city gives 533 majority to the debt payers' candidates for the legislature, which insures their election.

Readjusters Carry Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Nov. 4.—The readjusters carried Norfolk by 10 majority. In Portsmouth there is a tie.

Albemarle Carried by the Funders.

ALEXANDRIA, Nov. 4.—A dispatch from Charlottesville says that the funders have carried Albemarle and defeated Massey, one of the leaders of the readjusters, which is considered indication of a great victory for McCulloughby.

Result in Virginia Doubtful.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—The vote in this city is the smallest ever polled, there being no opposition to the funders' or debt payers' ticket. But few negroes voted. Returns received at the funders' headquarters here show that all the counties which were considered doubtful have gone for the readjusters. With all that, however, it is claimed that the Funders will have a majority in both houses. At the readjusters' headquarters it is claimed that they will have a majority in senate and house. Though defeated in the election here to-day, the supporters of the McCullogh bill are confident that they have a large majority in the state.

Map of Oregon and Washington.

To each new yearly subscriber to THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN, and to each old subscriber who renews his subscription to the WEEKLY for one year, our fine new map is sent. This map is of large size, has been prepared with great labor and expense, contains all latest surveys and other data, is handsomely finished in five colors, and is in all respects the finest map of Oregon and Washington ever issued. It supplies a want that has long been felt, as increased orders for THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN since this map was offered fully attest. Every person may feel assured that this map will give full satisfaction.

THE WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE.

[SPECIAL REPORT FOR THE OREGONIAN.]

OLYMPIA, Nov. 3, 1879.

I have nothing to chronicle regarding to-day's proceedings that would be of interest to your readers other than the recital of the action taken in either house.

Senator Chandler's death has created profound feeling and will probably be the subject for comment in the legislature to-morrow.

Presidents who have been United States Senators.

[From the Philadelphia Times.]

Some newspapers, in discussing the prospects of Thurman, Bayard and Blaine as presidential candidates, have stated that the road to the White House is not through the senate chamber, and that no United States senator ever became president. The truth is, we have had at least nine presidents who were members of the United States senate, and, with three exceptions—Washington, Taylor and Grant—every one of the presidents had either passed through the house or senate. Adams was vice president; Jefferson, before he became president, was secretary of state and vice president; Madison had had a term of service in the house, and had been secretary of state; Monroe had been senator, secretary of state, vice president and foreign minister; Adams had had the same experience; Jackson was a member of the house, the senate and a foreign minister; Van Buren had been a senator, secretary of state, vice president and foreign minister; Harrison was a member of the house and vice president; Polk was a member of the house; Filmore, a member of the house; Pierce, a senator; Buchanan, a member of the house, senator, secretary of state and foreign minister; Lincoln, a member of the house; Johnson, a representative and a vice president, senator after he had been president; Grant even had been secretary of war, and Hayes was a member of the lower house. With these facts of history it would seem that any member of congress might be pardoned for having an ambition for the presidency.

One Man of Sense in Mississippi.

There is one man of brains and common sense down in Mississippi. It is Judge R. S. Hudson, of Yazoo county. He was asked to be an "independent" democratic candidate for the assembly. He declined for private and family reasons, but took occasion to discuss the colored exodus, and said in his letter of declination:

> What caused and occupied the late extra session of congress? It was an attempt on the part of the democratic party in the congress of the United States to repeal or otherwise get rid of the law placing federal marshals with their soldiers and posse at election polls to awe, bull-doze and intimidate the vote, or because that was the effect of it. The republicans opposed the repeal. The democrats would have been successful but for two vetoes of President Hayes. I am that sort of democrat in good faith and practice. What can our congressmen say now in view of historic Yazoo affairs? Why preach one thing and practice another? If supporting that democracy and advocating a free, quiet, law and order canvass and election, and opposing any other sort make me a republican, then what does it make our representatives and the whole democratic party in congress?

Inshore Fishing.

[From the Astorian, Nov. 4.]

Capt. A. A. Henderson of the schooner Emily Stephens, called upon us yesterday, and from him we learn that it is not a settled fact as to whether the schooner will go in quest of more halibut this year. Since leaving here in April the schooner has made three successful trips into San Francisco with fish packed in ice, but as the fish have left Uncle Sam's domains and gone over into British waters, notwithstanding nobody there catches them, except a few Indians, and the U. S. government has paid the British government five and a half million dollars for fishing privileges of some sort, yet not clearly defined, Capt. Henderson does not feel safe in following the fish into British waters. The Emily Stephens has proven herself to be one of the most reliable and fast sea boats afloat, and it is a pity that she cannot pursue what might develop into a profitable business for Americans as well as the British, on the coast of the Pacific.

Josh Billings on Marriage.

Sum people marry bekause they think wimmin will be scarce next year, and live to wonder how the stock holds out.

Sum marry to get rid of themselves and diskover that the game was one that two could play at and neither win.

Sum marry for love without a cent in their pocket, nor a friend in the world, nor a drop of pedigree. This looks desperate, but is the strength of the game.

Sum marry in haste, and then set down and think it carefully over.

Sum think it carefully over first, and then set down and marry.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 5, 1879.

MORE SURPRISES.

The public desire increases to know who is the author of "The Diary of a Public Man," to which publicity is being given through the North American Review. The disclosures furnished by the diary show that history can not be safely written till lapse of time after the events have occurred. For example, Major Anderson, who commanded at Fort Sumter, has been always regarded as a loyal hero, thoroughly true to the national government against the blandishments and sophistries of secession. But here is proof that he was a devout believer in state-sovereignty; that he deemed his primary allegiance due to his state, and that he did not deliver the forts in Charleston harbor to the confederates was owing entirely to the fact that his own state had at that time taken no action, though its withdrawal was encouraged by the confederates and confidently expected by them. Major Anderson was in fact only waiting for Kentucky to secede and join the confederacy. Upon that event he was prepared to recognize the authority of the government of Jefferson Davis, and to deliver up the forts. It appears from this record that Mr. Lincoln was well aware of this feeling on the part of Major Anderson, and no doubt also it was well known to the confederate government. The diarist confesses that he was himself astonished by the statements as to Major Anderson's position, but he could not doubt them. In fact "Anderson had no expectation whatever of the re-establishment of the government over the seceded states," and the information was direct that he "intended to be governed in his own future course by the course of his own state of Kentucky." Here the public mind is disenchanted in regard to another popular hero. But nothing in this direction can afford much further surprise since it became known from the tone of Stanton's letters to Buchanan that "the great war secretary" himself, for months after the war had begun, actually desired the success of the southern confederacy, and in his confidential correspondence predicted it. These incidents show how deep and embarrassing were the complications in which Mr. Lincoln found himself, and how greatly he was beset with perils on every hand; and they also afford new views of his own firmness and fidelity,—qualities without which no man could have borne himself and carried the country successfully through so trying an ordeal.

But in this installment of the diary there are further revelations. At that time (March 1861) few believed there would be war; there was no war party in the senate (the house was not then in session) and the drift of opinion among public men was towards peaceful separation. Yet it is clear that this view was not shared by Mr. Lincoln, and he was troubled by manifest want of earnest support among the republicans of the senate. It appears also that Mr. Douglas was in the confidence of Mr. Lincoln, and repeatedly challenged the republican senators to declare their position, but without effect. Everybody was drifting, and the pressure for office was immense. Mr. Douglas was incessant in his efforts to "drive the republican senators into showing their hands;" and on one occasion after a sharp debate "it was perfectly obvious that the two republicans who did most of the speaking—Hale and Wilson—knew Mr. Douglas to be really uttering the sentiments and sketching the policy of the president, and were pretty nearly half willing to admit as much and attack the White House, but they had discretion and self-command enough to forbear." The diary, so far as published, comes down to the middle of March, 1861, up to which time it is evident that scarcely any one except Lincoln and Douglas comprehended the gravity of the situation. There was in fact, as the Chicago Tribune puts it, a general settling down to the conviction that, failing to reconcile the existing difficulties, there should be a formal separation of the slaveholding from the non-slaveholding states. Indeed, this was the end desired by Mr. Sumner, who preferred such a result to war, or to peace with any further national association with slavery. How little these senators knew of the patriotism of the American people! It was unquestionably this willingness on the part of senators to dissolve the union that urged the hot heads of the confederacy to fire on Sumter. They, judging from the senate, did not believe the north would fight, and perhaps they were not more surprised than the politicians at the north at the popular uprising that followed the firing on Sumter. This history of that most important time in our national existence grows in interest, and it gives new light to the events so rapidly succeeding Mr. Lincoln's inauguration.

EUROPEAN ARMIES.

English journals present new statistics of the strength of European armies, compiled since the last regulations of the military establishments of the several powers went into operation. In Germany the system of army reorganization which began in 1866 has been fully carried out. This system has produced an army of 1,300,000 men. After making due deductions, the strength of the German army may be fairly put at 1,250,000 men of the line, including the reserves and first landwehr, all of whom are thoroughly drilled and ready to enter the field at any moment. These men are of various ages, from twenty to thirty-two years. Besides these, the German government can call out the second landwehr and the landsturm, which include all the drilled soldiers from 32 to 30 years of age. These would, after making deductions, number 1,300,000 men. All these 2,550,000 soldiers can be marched out in twenty-four hours after being called, as all the quartermaster's arrangements are made in time of peace to enable this to be done. From this total must be deducted 200,000 for the fortresses, 150,000 for the coasts and against Denmark and 100,000 for depots; so that 2,100,000 men are available for real warfare, the last of whom would only require a fortnight at the most to be on the frontiers. It is said that the border fortifications on the French side are completely finished and fully armed. They are furnished with large stores of provisions, and communicate with the interior of the country by means of good railways. France has, of course, good fortresses on the German frontier, and these are strengthened by smaller barricading forts, but, in addition to the fact that they will not be completed and in thorough working order before 1881, Germany has the advantage of a convex frontier, which would facilitate concentric attacks, such as [illegible] regarded by military authorities as the [illegible] successful. The strength of the French army is, on paper, [illegible] men, but Sir [illegible] Wolseley, as well as other [illegible], estimate it as only about [illegible] are more than twelve [illegible] France is working hard [illegible] great efficiency [illegible] a few years [illegible] [illegible] Russia [illegible] has the [illegible] army [illegible] probably its actual [illegible] stated by the adherents of the [illegible] party in England, who desire to [illegible] party in power by making the [illegible] of Russian designs. These [illegible] go on to say that next spring Russia will have [illegible] soldiers ready for the field, and that her own workshops and foundries being unequal to the strain she has given extensive orders for cannon, rifles and ammunition to German manufacturers, whose establishments are running day and night. And in order to hold up Beaconsfield it is asserted that the czar regards the opposition or liberal party in England as his allies, and that the success of this party at the coming parliamentary elections will have the effect of encouraging the aggressive designs of Russia, and of subordinating British interests to Russian designs. But it does not appear that this mode of putting the case is weakening the liberal party. On the contrary there are evidences of that party's growing strength. And yet Russia and England will undoubtedly at some future day, and perhaps not a distant one, meet in conflict in Central Asia. And this result is perhaps hastened by the virtual annexation of Afghanistan to Britain's Indian empire, which has been the consequence of the recent disorders of Cabul.

THE ELECTIONS.

Perhaps by this time the democratic party may begin to take in the full measure of its follies and blunders of the past year. The returns we have from yesterday's elections show that the republican boom continues. There is victory all along the line. Tilden has gone to meet Thurman. And what leader is left? Dark waters roll over many great hopes. A party which considered itself assured of overwhelming victory in 1880 suddenly realizes that its prospects are reduced to the slimmest of chances. The ample proposition that hope gave again fails in the promised largeness. Yet why should the party that forced the extra session and foolishly avowed to the country the purposes which the solid-south managers disclosed, expect to escape the catastrophe?

Uniformity of republican gains throughout the country shows that only great and general causes could have produced the results reported. The reason of it simply is that the old republican and national sentiment has been awakened. The confederates and their northern allies have talked too freely. A solid south, uttering in congress what has been heard for a year past, has been regarded as a menace to national principles and the settlements of the war. These things have united the republicans and brought them to the polls.

Cornell is undoubtedly elected governor of New York. Doubt is however expressed of the success of the balance of the republican state ticket, since the democrats were united except on governor, and their divisions on this one point served to unite them on the rest. All possible exertions were made both by the friends of Robinson and of Kelly to get all the votes they could, and the democratic state ticket, with the exception of governor, got the benefit of the heavy and united vote. It is unquestionable, therefore, that the democratic quarrel brought to that portion of the ticket on which the factions were united a vote which otherwise it would never have received. The only comfort the democrats can draw from the elections is that the result in New York leaves that state a doubtful one for next year. In this there is some plausibility. And since it may force republicans to admit that New York is still a doubtful state, it will leave them with a consciousness that they still have something to do next year. But since Tilden is laid away, what democratic candidate has the resources to carry New York? And if it should be carried what other northern state could be depended on to go with it?

In Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Illinois and indeed in all the other states reported, the republican gains are merely enormous. New Jersey is republican too in her legislature; and the vote in the states near Indiana indicates that not even Indiana would now throw a democratic majority. So likewise Connecticut comes into the republican line.

The New York Times says with reference to the recent opinions of members of the supreme court on the railroad case: "It is reported that the United States supreme court will make a new rule, requiring that all minority opinions shall be submitted to a majority of the justices before being published. Of course, this is provoked by the extraordinary performance of Justice Field, who used language in reference to his associates' opinions which would not have been permitted from any attorney at the bar. It seems a strange thing that so conservative and dignified a body as the supreme court should be obliged to exercise a species of censorship over the official utterances of its members in order to prevent public scandal. If the court should adopt a rule forbidding its members to become candidates for the presidency, perhaps the same end might be reached."

Dakota, almost certainly, will be the next new state. Six railroads are now in course of extension into and through the territory. Population always rapidly follows railroads, and in the case of Dakota there is no exception. Vast quantities of land are being taken, and it is considered certain that the census of next year will show a population of 150,000, and perhaps 200,000. An immense area of good land still awaits occupation.

An inquirer wishes information as to conditions on which settlers may obtain Northern Pacific railroad lands. For accurate and authoritative information the best course to pursue would be to address the land agent of the company at New Tacoma, or General J. W. Sprague, general superintendent, who will cause the information desired to be furnished.

Amid the wreck of great hopes one light remains. Yazoo is democratic.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

THE MEMBERS OF THE PORTLAND FIRE Department are requested to meet at Columbian 3's house to-day at 1:30, sharp, to attend the funeral of our late brother fireman Thomas Holton.
H. MORGAN, Chief Engineer.

NOTICE.

MEMBERS OF THE PORTLAND FIRE Department wishing to attend the funeral of our late fellow member THOMAS HOLTON, are respectfully requested to meet at the house of Columbian Engine Company No. 3, this day (Wednesday) at 1:30 P. M., sharp. THOMAS A. JORDAN, Foreman.

COLUMBIAN NO. 3.

YOU ARE REQUESTED TO MEET AT your Engine House in citizens dress at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp, this day (Wednesday) to attend the funeral of our late fellow member THOMAS HOLTON.
THOS. A. JORDAN, Foreman.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the regular meeting of Columbian engine company, No. 3, held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, 1879, in respect to the memory of our deceased brother, the regular order of business was dispensed with and the following resolutions adopted:

WHEREAS, By the dispensation of an allwise Providence Thomas Holton, a member of this company, was on the morning of the 3d instant removed from our midst: therefore be it

Resolved, That this company deeply feel and deplore the loss of one who was a valued friend and a faithful member.

Resolved, That to the relatives of our deceased member we tender our heartfelt sympathy, and hope that in this sad hour of their affliction their grief may be assuaged by Him whose power is infinite.

Resolved, That the members of this company are requested to wear the usual badge of mourning for a period of thirty days, and that the engine house be draped in mourning for the same period.

Resolved, That an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to the relatives of our deceased comrade, and that they be published in the daily papers of this city.

THOS. A. JORDAN,
J. M. GEARIN,
WM. YOUNG,
Committee.

Attest:
THOS. NEALLY, Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a special meeting of the Firemen's Mutual Aid Society, held last evening, Nov. 4, 1879, the following resolutions of respect to the memory of our Brother Thomas Holton were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty in His Divine Wisdom to remove from among us our fellow member Thomas Holton; therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death our society loses a valuable member and a tried and true friend, whose generous heart was ever open to the call of the needy and friendless, and whose willingness to aid the defenseless and help the afflicted was his greatest desire; and

Resolved, That to the relatives of the deceased in this sad hour of their bereavement and grief we tender our most heartfelt sympathy and love, and the remembrance that He "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the relations of the deceased, and that the same be published in the daily papers of the city.

WEDNESDAY MORNING NOV 18[illegible]

CITY.

THE A[illegible] D[illegible]AN [illegible]—[illegible] agent or the Alex. Duncan s[illegible] rec[illegible] letter from Capt. James Ca[illegible] [illegible] stranded at Empire [illegible] that the vessel [illegible] water on the sandy beach at the [illegible] Rogue river The explanation as to [illegible] went on the beach is as follows Mr [illegible] the owner just before the Duncan went into the coasting trade sent a [illegible] month of Rogue river sounded the bar and placed beacons in position When [illegible] entered the mouth she was misled in her bearings and stuck for a few moments on the bar However she got [illegible] wind and tide drove her on the shore Capt [illegible] writes for her that [illegible] getting the ship off the sands on [illegible] rope and tackle stretched to [illegible] shore. He also has the assistance of a [illegible] which was sent to his aid from San Francisco. He says that he will get the ship [illegible] but it may take two weeks [illegible] by a month longer She has [illegible] only seven feet [illegible] in perfect [illegible] and not at all injured

A SUGGESTION TO THE POLICE COMMISSION.—[illegible] long established custom of the police commission which excludes reporters and others from its sessions deserves criticism The meetings are of public officers for the transaction of business which is of interest to the public, and which it has a right to know By allowing reporters the privileges to which they are invited by the city council, whose business is no more public accurate reports of their proceedings would appear instead of the disjointed and often mistaken statements which are only secured after a great deal of trouble under the present plan

ANOTHER EXHIBITION WALK —Next Saturday evening Misses Bertha Von Berg of New York, Bessie Wily of San Francisco and [illegible] Florence of Boston will give [illegible] admission and exhibition walks in the new armory hall corner of Front and Washington streets. Miss Von Berg who holds the Wilson championship belt of the United States, will undertake to beat any female pedestrian in the world for a 75 hour walk She also expresses a willingness to walk a one and a half mile match with any amateur male pedestrian in this state

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The following bids were opened for the construction of Kroetz new brewery on Fifth street, East Portland and were as follows Thomas G Davidson [illegible]; Robertson & Walker $6125 G Hough [illegible]; J E, Mayo $6543 E A Sprague, [illegible]; R L Gray, $6840 C R DeBergh [illegible]; J. M. Caywood $9000 The contract was accordingly let to Mr Thomas G David son as the lowest responsible bidder

THE OREGONIAN MAP —Every new subscriber to the WEEKLY OREGONIAN will be presented with a handsomely colored map of Oregon and Washington territory The map alone is worth half the subscription price of the WEEKLY. Now is the time to send in your names. Three dollars will secure one of the best weekly papers published on the coast, besides a splendid map Such an opportunity should not be neglected

W.F. MISSIONARY SOCIETY —The Woman s Foreign Missionary Society of the northwest holds its annual meeting in the Baptist church to-day. The services of the afternoon and evening, consisting of reports addresses, etc., will be of general interest A sermon will be delivered to-night before the society by Rev J H. Teale, of Oregon City The public is cordially invited.

HAND CAR.—Last night about [illegible] o clock after it had grown quite dark, some of the O [illegible] railroad employes, coming from the [illegible] to East Portland on a hand car ran over John Flynn, who was lying on the track work south of the depot Flynn was badly bruised and cut about the head and face, but was not dangerously injured

DIED TOGETHER.—Mrs. Gunn, a lady who recently arrived in this city from California, died Monday evening at her residence near the pavilion. A pair of twins, to whom she gave birth a short time previous died almost simultaneously with the unfortunate mother. The three were buried yesterday afternoon in one grave

THE ATTORNEYS.—Mr. John A Reed s name was unintentionally omitted from the list of attorneys of the district court in this case which was published in our columns yesterday morning Mr Reed was one of the attorneys for the libellants the sailors, and made the opening argument for them on the final hearing of the case

SPECIAL ELECTION —Monday the city election came off at McMinnville, Yamhill county, with the following result Members of the council, R. H. Todd, C A Wallace, J [illegible] H. Adams, W J Henderson recorder, Henry Warren, marshal Frank [illegible].

ENTERTAINMENT.—An elocutionary entertainment will be given at First Congregational Church next Friday evening Mr F. [illegible] Chauvin, the well known elocutionist, will appear.

LARGE EGG.—Mr. Chauncey Ball, who resides [illegible] miles out on the base line road, has exhibited at this office an egg 7¼x6¼ inches The egg was laid by a light Brahma hen

NEWS NOTES FROM SALEM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN]

[illegible] shows a decided improvement in business [illegible] our merchants reporting a lively trade

A meeting will be held this evening to make arrangements for a thanksgiving party at the Chemeketa hotel.

[illegible] Bell, we learn, contemplates opening a stock of books and stationery in Cann s old stand [illegible] street.

A petition is being circulated and almost universally signed, requesting Manager Maguire to sail [illegible] into the Salem dock at his earliest convenience.

[illegible] and family started to day for [illegible] springs to recuperate. The members [illegible] who were down with the diphtheria are [illegible] pleased to announce convalescing rapidly

[illegible] Bros. of this city have, during the present year, received 250 000 bushels of wheat [illegible] amount will probably be increased before [illegible] closes to 300 000 bushels an excess of [illegible] bushels over the receipts of any former [illegible]. The receipts at the Farmers' warehouse are [illegible] up to the average while other warehouses [illegible] the county report a flattering increase [illegible] bringing $1 a bushel at the present time.

FRUITFUL SOURCE OF LITIGATION

A Question as to the Exact Location of the north Line of the Caruthers' Land Claim—Discrepancies between the U S Patent and Surveyors' Field Notes—Several Lawsuits Pending

[illegible] the north line of the [illegible] claim [illegible] a large amount of work [illegible] about the year [illegible] Mit[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] and afterwards the land was patented to [illegible] heirs [illegible] [illegible] a great that there [illegible] [illegible] latter [illegible] [illegible] in the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mc[illegible] years [illegible] was discovered [illegible] the latter description having been used by all surveyors in locating [illegible] claim At this last [illegible] very [illegible] considerable litigation [illegible] at the corner on the river bank near [illegible] saw mill some sixty six feet further north than it has been placed by any one subsequent to Mitchell

From a width of sixty six feet at the river this discrepancy [illegible] gradually to a point [illegible] Fourth street which is about a half a mile from the river But this is enough to make great trouble [illegible] the Portland sawmill company four years [illegible] in the northern [illegible] of the Caruthers claim and erected [illegible] mill buildings and machinery close to the line, and Messrs Shearer & Coyne bought land in the southeast corner of the Couch claim and erected a large box factory close to the mill buildings with only the north line of the Caruthers claim and the space [illegible] of the buildings dividing them and all went as merry as a marriage bell till the discovery of the above mentioned error in the field notes or patent when things became more lively than lovely As we are informed Messrs Shearer & Coyne own two fifths of the stock in the mill company which has sued them for the extra sixty six feet of ground which takes about three-fourths of their large factory offices, etc When the surveyor set stakes on the new line he was followed by men who pulled them up and threw them about sixty six feet to the southward and then the lawing began

The case is a serious one as it [illegible] rests all property owners along the north line of the Caruthers claim and will involve some very costly improvements

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati Ohio says in his report that after ten years of close investigation he can safely say that very few if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States Other proofs could be cited were it necessary to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy Orders from responsible parties addressed to Wm Scheffler or Geo H Beach St Helena Napa county Cal, will receive prompt attention

Various Causes—

Advancing years care sickness disappointment and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely AYER S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray light and red hair to a rich brown or deep black as may be desired It softens and cleanses the scalp giving it a healthy action and removes and cures dandruff and humors By its use falling hair is checked and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or glands decayed Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy weak or sickly hair to which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth Harmless and sure in its operation It is incomparable as a dressing and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts It contains neither oil nor dye and will not soil or color white cambric yet it lasts long on the hair and keeps it fresh and vigorous For sale by all dealers Hodge Davis & Co Portland wholesale agents

ENGLAND'S OLD NOBILITY.

HOW THE GREAT LANDOWNERS OBTAINED THEIR ESTATES—THE ILLEGITIMATE ACQUISITION OF LANDED PROPERTY.

The London Echo has been publishing an interesting series of articles entitled "Our Old Nobility," in which the growth of the noble families of England has been portrayed. In a concluding article the writer thus sums up his views:

"In a hundred chapters I have briefly sketched the agrarian history of the majority of our most notable aristocratic houses. In my selection I have not been guided mainly by the greatness of their possessions, but rather by their historic interest or present prominence. Thus I have included some like the Erskines and Fanes, whose estates are small, and have altogether omitted peers like Lord Tredegar, with over 100,000 acres, and Lord Penrhyn, with a rent roll of £65,000. I have dealt in all with 122 nobles, owning in round numbers nearly five and a half millions of acres, with a rent roll of near £5,750,000, an average ownership of 45,000 acres, and an average rent roll of over £48,000. It certainly has not been my object to seek out examples of what for want of a better word, I will call illegitimate acquisition of landed property. Yet the result is that those who can claim that they have obtained their lands by money solely acquired in commercial or professional pursuits are singularly few,—perhaps about a dozen in all. Compared with other peoples, we are a landless nation, and we are a landless nation in consequence of continual encroachments upon the rights our ancient forefathers possessed. Throughout, the reigns of the Hanoverian kings landowners' parliaments were constantly passing inclosure acts, desirable for the most part, with a view to increased production, but resulting in the appropriation of between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 of acres of common land, of which the common people retained but a very small proportion—not more than 275,000 acres in all. Occasionally I have been able to point out where vast estates have been increased by these acts, but generally it has been impossible to obtain exact information. It is worthy of notice that anciently the lavish grants of the crown were checked by the power of resumption. Most of the vast estates seized and retained by William the Conqueror were dissipated by William Rufus, who was compelled subsequently to resume the grants which he had made. About the middle of last century the grasping avarice of one of the Lowthers, in attempting to obtain for himself a large tract of crown land, which had been previously granted to the Bentincks, occasioned the passing of what is known as the Nullus Tempus act, which secured the grantees of crown lands against any resumption of their properties. It is obviously impossible to reckon up acre by acre the quantity of land which has at various times been obtained otherwise than by purchase. The agrarian history of many of the great houses is complicated by the acquisition of property by marriage. I have, however, traced the previous history of such lands in a sufficient number of cases to show that we may safely presume that as a rule they have been acquired in much the same way as the rest. After a careful consideration of all the houses I have noticed, bearing in mind modern inclosure acts, and the increased value of lands due to the improvements of tenants, I cannot but arrive at the conclusion that not one-tenth of the estates in question have been acquired for value received. All the rest, in one way or another, has been obtained for nothing.

"In Ireland the great majority of the landlords owe their possessions to successive confiscations. With regard to Irish landowners it ought to be borne in mind that in a very large number of cases it is the labor of successive generations of tenants which has given to the land almost all the value it possesses, and that not a few landlords have improved their properties by the aid of the state. When the corn laws were repealed a sop was given to the landowners. In the darkest days of commercial distress no statesman ever proposed to find out of the public revenue capital for manufacturers or shopkeepers; yet this was what was done for landlords after the repeal of the corn laws. Acts were passed which declared; 'Whereas, it is desirable that works of drainage should be encouraged in order to promote the increased productiveness of the land and the healthiness of the districts when it is required, and to supply the demand for agricultural labor, especially at that season of the year when other sources are expended, etc.'; £2,000,000 were allotted to English landowners, and £1,000,000 to Irish landowners, in order to make advances to them, to be gradually repaid at a low interest. Nor was the accommodation of the State Loan office resorted to by comparatively small proprietors. Among the Irish recipients was the wealthy Marquis of Waterford. For the most part, too, the landlords were content that the farmers should do the work of improvement, and we have the authority of Mr. Caird for stating that sometimes they borrowed of the government for their permanent advantage, and charged the farmer, who had only a temporary advantage, one and one and a half per cent more than they themselves paid. The popular theory that in England and Scotland all permanent improvements have been effected by the landlords is only very partially true. If we turn from the lowlands to the hills, the truth holds good that the cultivator has done the greater part of the work of reclamation. Had I but the space I could give multitudinous examples. Only give a young and energetic man a nineteen years' lease of an uncultivated waste contiguous to his farm and he will work miracles. In a multitude of cases it has needed not even that small security; the landlord's or agent's word was enough. But when the lease expired, or the old landlord or the old tenant died, the permanent gain at once became the property of the owner of the bare soil. I have walked on land, not more than a long day's walk from London, which is now paying its owner three times what it did a generation ago, and the owner has not laid out a single sixpence upon it. Landowners may try to throw dust in the eyes of the public by complaining that they cannot just now get three per cent. interest on the present purchase money of agricultural land; but when I know that a little farm in Carmarthenshire, which in the middle of the last century only brought in £10 a year to its owner, now pays its descendant ten times that amount every year, I laugh them to scorn."

THE GREAT COLORADO RIVER.

Astonishing Facts and Statements about it by Maj. Powell, Geologist.

In an address delivered recently before the academy of sciences of San Francisco, Prof Powell, of the U. S. geological survey, made the following statements:

The lower third of the Colorado lies but little above the level of the sea, while the upper two-thirds has an elevation of from 4000 to 8000 feet. Out of this basin or plateau rise snow-clad mountains to an altitude of from 10,000 to 14,000 feet. Hardly any rain falls upon this upper basin of mountains. But in winter immense drifts of snow cover these eternal rocks. When in summer this snow commences to melt, ten thousand cascades and little streams are formed. They plunge down the rocky mountain sides, cut their courses through the immense plateaus, and gradually run as swift rivers through the silent region. They cut deep channels through the rocks, so that the beds of these rivers are variously from 800 to 7000 feet below the general surface of the plateaus. For 200 miles the Green and Grand rivers run in a channel cut to the depth of a mile. The whole upper two-thirds of Colorado is cut up by gorges and canyons, so that the county is almost impassable. There are no evidences that these canyons are formed by upheavals of huge masses of rocks, but they are all caused by the slow but perpetual action of the mountain streams. If 150 mountains like Mt. Washington were plucked up by the root, they would not fill the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river. The fall of this river is very great, and differs from 2 to 200 feet per mile; it is therefore not navigable. Moreover, for 1000 miles along the Colorado river there is no place where a town or farm could be located, for the river is entirely unapproachable for that whole distance. These canyons have carried away vast areas of sediment. The whole region has become one of naked rocks, and geological studies can here be made with facility. Every stratum can here be [illegible]. Nature lies before us like an open book. The amount of material carried away by this river is as large as a rock 800 feet in depth covering the states of New York, Pennsylvania, [illegible] and [illegible], or large as California and Nevada. [illegible] vast amount of rock the storms of ages have hurled off.

The rivers of Colorado are older than the valleys and mountains. Gradually, as the mountains rose, the rivers cut their way through them. The stratification of these rocks is never sweeping, but always vertically broken, rising or falling abruptly by [illegible] 20,000 feet. These strata are always horizontal, and sometimes there are found zones of rocks twenty miles in width broken into irregular fragments. The Colorado river carries about as much water as the Ohio at Louisville. Where the rock is soft, it forms a broad, wide river but when it passes through basalt its channel is narrowed down to sixty or seventy feet, and through it this vast volume of water plunges and rushes in a mad, wild, and irresistible stream, that would carry anything before it. Sometimes, when a storm arises and heavy showers fall, this mile deep channel of the river is filled in an incredibly short time to a hight of hundreds of feet and the torrent sweeps through it at a most terrific rate. There are, however, no vertical falls of any magnitude in the Colorado.

Most interesting to the explorers are the thousands of ancient ruins found throughout the whole region. These habitations are built of stone, and often reach a hight of seven stories. At the heads of the streams forming the Colorado are the most ancient of these ruins, while further down in the deep cliffs and canyons they apparently belong to a later period. It seems that the people were driven from the beautiful valleys above to seek protection on these high cliffs, which were better adapted for defense. The Major entered into a general explanation of stone implements found among these ruins.

"He Ain't in No Trance."

New York Tribune.

A country man was once prowling about a railroad station to see what he could discover to satisfy the cravings of an inquiring mind. He stepped into a baggage car which contained a box of exceedingly stalwart Limburger cheese and a musket box, the latter having a strong resemblance to the ordinary rough pine coffin case. Sniffing the pervasive odor of the place for a moment, he stepped over to the side of the musket box, and, jerking his thumb at it over his shoulder, remarked with a sagacious wink: "He ain't in no trance!" The observation seems to fit the case of the late Senator Thurman, of Ohio.

"Papa, won't you come home to-night? Mamma cries so much when you are away," said one of the little [illegible] to Joseph A. Blair, as it climbed upon [illegible] in the court house at Newark, N. J., where he was on trial for killing his coachman. The counsel of Mr. Blair who planned this scene is a genius.

Prince Napoleon seems to be getting wisdom as he grows old. He doesn't intend to issue a manifesto.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, November 4, 1879.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Silver coin, 99¾ buying; par selling.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4:—Holiday.

The local wheat market to-day is steadier, and buyers take freely at yesterday's quotations, while holders are firmer in the conviction that prices will again recover. This belief seems to be well founded from the tenor of the article from the Mark Lane Express telegraphed us to-day and found in another column.

There is nothing specially new in the local money market, which moves along in the accustomed channels, with a fair demand for the purpose of moving the grain crop and a moderate promptness in remittances from the interior. Rates are persistently maintained at 10@12 per cent per annum, with no indications of any reduction.

The advance on nearly all lines of goods which this state buys from abroad seems to receive no check, and, though hardware shows the rise most plainly, it extends to almost all articles of daily consumption among the people. Sugar was advanced ¼ cent more per pound to-day, making a rise of nearly 40 per cent within the past forty days. Canned goods have also been, and are still, advancing. Boots and shoes and cotton goods have the same tendency.

Our province is not to advise the farmers to sell their wheat, or to ask them to refrain from selling, but to give them as nearly as can be obtained, the true condition of the market as well as the facts which indicate the future course of the trade. Whatever good suggestions there are in the following letter, is meant for one who is entirely too profuse in his advice to the farmers on this subject:

PORTLAND, Nov. 3, 1879.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

If the pretensions of Sam Clarke as an adviser to his farmer constituents can be briefly related, his insufferable egotism will repay him to see his name here in print, while truth will receive a new coat of mail that some of his falsehoods are dissipated. He balances before the public as the farmers' friend, and tells them, after consulting with Sibylline leaves, when to sell their wheat and when to withhold from marketing. He assumes to be the great alimentary canal through which the golden grain flows to the suffering and hungered poor of other lands, and like Norton I., emperor of the United States and Mexico, imagines that his edict is the law. His last hallucination is that he has been worth five cents per bushel in good advice to the farming community, which from his hideous fanfare to the aforesaid through the columns of the Willamette Farmer imploring them to remit him his dues we do not think they acknowledge. In his commercial column of last week Sam enunciates the following lies, and some of them the farming community, if they did not know Sam, would doubtless, if not contradicted, believe to be true:

"The exporters complain bitterly that the Willamette Farmer stands in the way of making as much as they desire."

This is an outcrop of Sam's egotism.

"The farmers are five cents a bushel better off through the country for our services this season."

He thinketh himself Seer, the father of Cereal.

"There were six vessels outside the bar yesterday, several of which were not known to be on the way here."

There were four outside instead, but while the lager beer jerkers and hoodlums knoweth not of many vessels to arrive, the exporters do.

"The lowest figures named in the San Francisco market were $2 10 and $2 15 per cental."

As the highest actual sales there have not as yet exceeded $2 10 on the height of an excited market, such a lie needs nailing to the wall.

"Oregon wheat should at all times be two cents per bushel higher at Portland than San Francisco."

Sam endeavoreth to earn his five cents per bushel from the granger, with an opinion.

One conscientious scruple flashes through the boom Sam has given to our market, he says:

"Act on your judgment do not take our advice."

If this is intended for his farming friends, they are indeed indebted to him five cents per bushel; but we fear it was meant for the exporter, who does so anyway, and consequently is not particularly valuable.

Clarke has a habit of taking hold of the seat of his own breeches and elevating himself on a high pedestal because no one else will; it suits his purpose just as well to pose as a falsifier as anything else. Not content with the duty of the journalist to chronicle passing events, to faithfully represent the present market value of farm products and as far as possible to enlighten the reader with facts by which conclusions are reached, he chooses to jump across the wide domain of the practical and expedient, and sound his fog horn in the mazes of a lurid imagination heated to fervor in the effort to earn five cents per bushel from the unsuspecting and amazed grangers.

KING OF THE BLOOD

THE MOST THOROUGH PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD YET DISCOVERED.

Cures all Humors, from a Common Eruption to the Worst Scrofula.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the Stomach.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude; cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, in short all the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this powerful corrector, the chief and sovereign of all ancient or modern medical discoveries—KING OF THE BLOOD.

ITS NAME IS ITS BEST DESCRIPTION, as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health, and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages. It has frequently cured it when advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.

It cures DROPSY, general or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.

It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.

It eradicates the effects of Mineral Poisons, and establishes a sound constitution.

Many certificates, much further information and full directions for using, will be found in the pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," in which each bottle is enclosed.

Price $1 per bottle containing 12 ounces, or 40 to 80 doses. Sold by Dealers in medicine,

D. RANSOM, SON & CO. Proprietors,

Buffalo, N. Y.

OVERALLS

Are sold by leading dealers in this city and on this coast, because—

"THEY CONTAIN THE BEST MATERIAL, ARE SEWN WITH LINEN THREAD, And ARE THE MOST PERFECT FITTING."

In putting on or taking off Overalls, the strain on the crotch often causes them to rip; and to remedy this we are making a continuous strip of cloth, extending the entire length of both sides of the Overall from the crotch and secured thereto at every point. Under these improvements, we know [illegible] greater strain than any other make in the market.

Observe the Trade Mark and take no other.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN
The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast.
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.
HAS RETURNED AFTER AN EXTENSIVE tour of the Eastern States for the past four months. The Doctor while absent visited all the principal Medical institutions in the large cities of the United States, and comes back with all the modern methods, instruments and appliances known to the most scientific men in the profession. The Doctor has also brought charts and manikins to illustrate his lecture.
DR. PAUL M. BRENAN has been fifteen years lecturing on the Laws of Life and Health. In his private and public lectures he has taught men and women the true system of life, how to be healthy and happy, if they would only be guided by his wise counsel. But all cannot hear his delightful and instructive lectures, nor can he tell everything necessary for suffering humanity to know from the public rostrum before a promiscuous audience. There remains much to be learned from him as his experience extends over broad fields of active professional life. This knowledge so necessary to the welfare of the sufferer can only be gleaned by private Professional Consultation at his office.
His experience in the various parts of Europe and America give him such opportunities of learning the delicate diseases which the human family are prone to, their mode of treatment and permanent cure, as no other physician on the Pacific Coast can claim. He has not only treated these diseases most successfully, but has made them a life study, as a few moments' consultation will prove.
He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the
FOLLIES OF YOUTH,
Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.
IT IS TRUE
That persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician [illegible]
